

The Future Diversity Leaders Program

KPMG LLP (KPMG) is seeking high-performing freshman and sophomore students who have demonstrated and continue to demonstrate a commitment to diversity and are interested in future opportunities at KPMG through participation in our exciting Future Diversity Leaders (FDL) program.

What is the Future Diversity Leaders program about?

- The FDL program begins with a three-day leadership conference, held in Hollywood, CA, focused on preparing high-potential students with the skills and perspective to be the business leaders of tomorrow.
- Based on your performance and participation at the leadership conference, if you are recommended to participate in an office visit for a summer internship in our "Trainee Program"; you will receive a $1,000 scholarship.
- Upon successful completion of your first internship, you will receive another internship offer to continue in our Trainee program. Should you accept this offer, you will continue in our Trainee program and receive additional scholarship dollars. You will continue in this program until the summer before your graduation.
- In your last summer, you will enter our "Practice Internship" where you will gain actual hands-on experience through interactions with our various clients in the line of business that you have chosen.

Why should I participate?

This program is more than just a trip to California to be among the stars! As a rising star in your own right, for three days you will have the opportunity to network with industry leaders, professors, and KPMG professionals from all across the country. With successful participation, you will then be eligible to continue the journey in the FDL program. Through this process, in addition to receiving internship opportunities that could last for up to a three-year period, you are also eligible to receive up to a total of $6,000 in scholarships after full completion of the program. The FDL program is a great place to formulate your career objectives and learn the skills to launch a great career.

When is the Leadership Conference?

The program will be held July 16–18, 2012 in Hollywood, CA.

How do I apply?

To be considered for this program, you must have a cumulative 3.5 or higher grade point average and be interested in pursuing a career in business. In addition, you must submit a completed program application form, along with your résumé and current transcript to your faculty advisor. Your advisor will review your documents and make a determination as to whether or not to nominate you for the program.

You must submit all materials to your FDL Faculty Advisor, by February 17, 2012.

All decisions regarding who is selected for the program will be made by March 30, 2012.

About KPMG

You'll find diversity is big at KPMG—diversity of gender, race/ethnicity, ideas, sexual orientation, professional insights, and personal perspectives. Opportunities to grow? Yes. A diverse work environment? Definitely. A commitment to serving the community? Absolutely. Whatever you're looking for in a career, you can likely find it at KPMG—the Big Four accounting firm that helps you build your career. Your future. And your life. Learn more about why KPMG is a great place to build your career. Visit www.kpmg-campus.com.

KPMG.

A great place to build your career.

For more information, please contact:

Jennifer Neal

National Associate Director, Diversity University Relations and Recruiting at jmneal@kpmg.com

Service offerings are subject to legal and regulatory restrictions. Some services may not be available to KPMG's financial statement audit or other attest service clients.

